Background Information

THE COUNCIL,

HAVING REGARD to Article 5 b) of the Convention on the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development of 14 December 1960;

HAVING REGARD to the Resolution of the Council of 13 December 1984 on the Terms of Reference of the Committee on International Investment and Multinational Enterprises [C(84)171(Final)] as extended by the Council on 27 September 1990 [C/M(90)17(Final, Item 208)];

HAVING REGARD to the Recommendation of the Council of 6 January 1983 concerning the improvement of foreign direct investment statistics [C(82)141(Final)];

RECOGNISING the improvements that have been achieved in the comparability of data collected on foreign direct investment since the publication of the OECD Detailed Benchmark Definition of Foreign Direct Investment in 1983 and the desirability of ensuring that the methodology of the Benchmark continues to reflect the reality of foreign direct investment transactions;

CONSIDERING that divergences still exist between the methodology used by some Member countries and the methodology of the Benchmark;

On the proposal of the Committee on International Investment and Multinational Enterprises;

I. RECOMMENDS that Member countries take steps to bring their statistical methodology into line as soon as possible with the Revised Detailed Benchmark Definition of foreign direct investment as set out in the Report C(91)80/REV1/ANN1, thereby providing a comparable basis for users of foreign direct investment statistics.

II. INSTRUCTS the Committee on International Investment and Multinational Enterprises, in co-operation with the Group of Financial Statisticians, to continue co-ordinating within OECD the collection of information on international direct investment and multinational enterprises, and to collect and publish at regular intervals stock and flow data on inward and outward foreign direct investments, accompanied by notes describing the areas where the methodology used by Member countries differs from the Revised Detailed Benchmark Definition.

III. INSTRUCTS the Committee for International Investment and Multinational Enterprises to report back to the Council within three years on progress made by Member countries in implementing this Recommendation.

About the OECD

The OECD is a unique forum where governments work together to address the economic, social and environmental challenges of globalisation. The OECD is also at the forefront of efforts to understand and to help governments respond to new developments and concerns, such as corporate governance, the information economy and the challenges of an ageing population. The Organisation provides a setting where governments can compare policy experiences, seek answers to common problems, identify good practice and work to co-ordinate domestic and international policies.

The OECD Member countries are: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, the Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Korea, Latvia, Luxembourg, Mexico, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Portugal, the Slovak Republic, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the United States. The European Union takes part in the work of the OECD.

OECD Legal Instruments

Since the creation of the OECD in 1961, around 450 substantive legal instruments have been developed within its framework. These include OECD Acts (i.e. the Decisions and Recommendations adopted by the OECD Council in accordance with the OECD Convention) and other legal instruments developed within the OECD framework (e.g. Declarations, international agreements).

All substantive OECD legal instruments, whether in force or abrogated, are listed in the online Compendium of OECD Legal Instruments. They are presented in five categories:

- Decisions: OECD legal instruments which are legally binding on all Members except those which abstain at the time of adoption. While they are not international treaties, they entail the same kind of legal obligations. Adherents are obliged to implement Decisions and must take the measures necessary for such implementation.
- Recommendations: OECD legal instruments which are not legally binding but practice accords them great moral force as representing the political will of Adherents. There is an expectation that Adherents will do their utmost to fully implement a Recommendation. Thus, Members which do not intend to do so usually abstain when a Recommendation is adopted, although this is not required in legal terms.
- Declarations: OECD legal instruments which are prepared within the Organisation, generally within a subsidiary body. They usually set general principles or long-term goals, have a solemn character and are usually adopted at Ministerial meetings of the Council or of committees of the Organisation.
- International Agreements: OECD legal instruments negotiated and concluded within the framework of the Organisation. They are legally binding on the Parties.
- Arrangement, Understanding and Others: several ad hoc substantive legal instruments have been developed within the OECD framework over time, such as the Arrangement on Officially Supported Export Credits, the International Understanding on Maritime Transport Principles and the Development Assistance Committee (DAC) Recommendations.
