Background Information

The Recommendation on the Attribution of Profits to Permanent Establishments was adopted by the OECD Council on 17 July 2008 on the proposal of the Committee on Fiscal Affairs. The Recommendation aims to achieve consistency in Adherents' tax administrations in their approaches to determining the profits attributable to permanent establishments in order to reduce the risk of double taxation. The Recommendation builds on the 1997 OECD Recommendation concerning the Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital (the Model Tax Convention) which calls Adherents, when concluding new bilateral conventions or revising existing bilateral conventions, to conform to the Model Tax Convention. The international tax principles for attributing profits to permanent establishments found in Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention have long been the subject of considerable uncertainty, particularly in respect of the extent to which they treat a permanent establishment as if it were an independent entity separate from the enterprise of which it is a part and dealing at arm's length with other parts of that enterprise. Hence, the Recommendation calls Adherents to follow the OECD 2008 Report on the Attribution of Profits to Permanent Establishments for bilateral tax conventions, which provides guidance on the principles for attributing profits to a permanent establishment under Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention.

THE COUNCIL,

HAVING REGARD to Article 5(b) of the Convention on the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development of 14 December, 1960;

HAVING REGARD to the Recommendation of the Council of 23 October 1997 concerning the Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital (hereinafter referred to as the “Model Tax Convention”) [C(97)195/FINAL], in particular Article 7 (Business Profits) thereof on the taxation of business profits attributable to permanent establishments;

HAVING REGARD to the differences between the version of Article 7 which existed prior to the 2010 update to the Model Tax Convention (hereinafter referred to as the “pre-2010 Article 7”) and the version of Article 7 introduced by the 2010 update to the Model Tax Convention (hereinafter referred to as the “2010 Article 7”);

HAVING REGARD to the fundamental need for co-operation among tax administrations in order to remove the obstacles that international double taxation presents to the free movement of goods, services and capital between both Member countries and non Member economies;

CONSIDERING that the Recommendation of the Council of 23 October 1997 [C(97)195/FINAL] recommends to Member countries that, for the purposes of the bilateral tax conventions concluded on the basis of the Model Tax Convention, the determination of the profits that should be attributed to the permanent establishment situated in one State of an enterprise of another State be made on the basis of Article 7 (Business Profits) of the Model Tax Convention and the Commentary thereon, as modified from time to time;

NOTING that practices regarding the attribution of profits to permanent establishments and interpretations of the pre-2010 Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention and of the Commentary thereon as it read prior to the 2008 update to the Model Tax Convention have varied considerably and that this lack of a common interpretation and consistent application of Article 7 can lead to problems of double taxation and double non-taxation;

NOTING that these problems are of growing importance in view of the large number of multinational enterprises that operate through permanent establishments, particularly in the financial sector;

ACKNOWLEDGING the need to achieve consistency in the approaches of tax administrations, on the one hand, and of enterprises, on the other hand, in the determination of the profits attributable to permanent establishments;

I. RECOMMENDS to the Governments of Member countries:

1. that their tax administrations follow, when applying the provisions of their bilateral tax conventions that are drafted on the basis of the pre-2010 Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention, the guidance in the 2008 Report to the extent that its conclusions do not conflict with the 2008 Commentary on Article 7;

2. that their tax administrations encourage taxpayers to follow the guidance in the 2008 Report when applying the provisions of bilateral tax conventions that are drafted on the basis of the pre-2010 Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention and, to that end, that they give the 2008 Report publicity in their country and have it translated, where necessary, into their national language(s);

3. that their tax administrations follow, when applying the provisions of their bilateral tax conventions that are drafted on the basis of the 2010 Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention, the guidance in the 2010 Report;

4. that their tax administrations encourage taxpayers to follow the guidance in the 2010 Report when applying the provisions of bilateral tax conventions that are drafted on the basis of the 2010 Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention and, to that end, that they give the 2010 Report publicity in their country and have it translated, where necessary, into their national language(s).

II. INVITES non Member economies whose bilateral tax conventions contain provisions drafted on the basis of either the pre-2010 Article 7 or the 2010 Article 7 of the Model Tax Convention to take account of the terms of this Recommendation.

III. DECIDES to repeal the Recommendation of the Council of 26 November 1993 [C(93)147/FINAL].

About the OECD

The OECD is a unique forum where governments work together to address the economic, social and environmental challenges of globalisation. The OECD is also at the forefront of efforts to understand and to help governments respond to new developments and concerns, such as corporate governance, the information economy and the challenges of an ageing population. The Organisation provides a setting where governments can compare policy experiences, seek answers to common problems, identify good practice and work to co-ordinate domestic and international policies.

The OECD Member countries are: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Chile, the Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Korea, Latvia, Luxembourg, Mexico, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Portugal, the Slovak Republic, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the United States. The European Union takes part in the work of the OECD.

OECD Legal Instruments

Since the creation of the OECD in 1961, around 450 substantive legal instruments have been developed within its framework. These include OECD Acts (i.e. the Decisions and Recommendations adopted by the OECD Council in accordance with the OECD Convention) and other legal instruments developed within the OECD framework (e.g. Declarations, international agreements).

All substantive OECD legal instruments, whether in force or abrogated, are listed in the online Compendium of OECD Legal Instruments. They are presented in five categories:

- Decisions: OECD legal instruments which are legally binding on all Members except those which abstain at the time of adoption. While they are not international treaties, they entail the same kind of legal obligations. Adherents are obliged to implement Decisions and must take the measures necessary for such implementation.
- Recommendations: OECD legal instruments which are not legally binding but practice accords them great moral force as representing the political will of Adherents. There is an expectation that Adherents will do their utmost to fully implement a Recommendation. Thus, Members which do not intend to do so usually abstain when a Recommendation is adopted, although this is not required in legal terms.
- Declarations: OECD legal instruments which are prepared within the Organisation, generally within a subsidiary body. They usually set general principles or long-term goals, have a solemn character and are usually adopted at Ministerial meetings of the Council or of committees of the Organisation.
- International Agreements: OECD legal instruments negotiated and concluded within the framework of the Organisation. They are legally binding on the Parties.
- Arrangement, Understanding and Others: several ad hoc substantive legal instruments have been developed within the OECD framework over time, such as the Arrangement on Officially Supported Export Credits, the International Understanding on Maritime Transport Principles and the Development Assistance Committee (DAC) Recommendations.
